4) Rule of Play for Leagues –

Bocce Ball League Rules and Scoring

The league will follow standard rules and scoring. The team first reaching 11 points and winning by one wins the game. The League Chairman or designee will be onsite to assist with questions and in directing players to appropriate courts as per wins/losses.

Cornhole League Rules and Scoring

Rules - Each player has 20 seconds to throw their bean bag onto the other board during what is called "innings of play." There isn't a set distance for how far each board should be away from each other. Any throwable distance is fine, but official rules created by the American Corn hole Association state 27 feet as the proper distance for professional games. Each team will alternate tossing the bean bag underhand onto the board until all four bean bags are thrown. The player's feet must stay behind the leading edge of the board during each throw. Once all bean bags are thrown, each team will collect and re-throw.

Scoring - The main objective of the game is to get the bean bag into the hole, but it's not the only way to earn points. Throwing a bean bag onto the board earn you one point, while throwing it into the hole earns you three points. Missing the board completely results in no points. Cancellation scoring is used in cornhole, meaning one player/team earns points each inning because points are subtracted from the opponent's score. For example, if Team A scores four points and Team B earns three, then the score for Team A is one point. Whichever team reaches exactly 21 points first wins.

5.) Weather Cancellations and Delays –

The group lead will determine if it is safe to play and send out an email to all players in advance when possible. In the event of lightning strikes during play, activities will be suspended and participants should seek shelter immediately, with activities resuming only after 30 minutes after the last lightning or thunder. Play that is cancelled will not be re-scheduled.

You can also go to the Town's website that will let you know if fields are closed.
